61 Persons Die As Plane Plunges Into Boston Harbor

11 Survivors Seriously Hurt; Probe Ordered

Mysterious Secret Document Reported Missing After Crash

BOSTON (AP) — An Eastern Airlines four-engine Electra transport plunged into Boston harbor on takeoff Tuesday, killing 61 of the 72 aboard. All of the 11 known survivors were injured seriously.

A mysterious "secret document" figured in the crash. State Police Capt. Carl Larsen, in charge of rescue operations, said a member of the Air Force Office of Special Investigation told him it was aboard at takeoff but later missing. Larsen said the FBI started a search.

Brings Demand for Probe

The crash, one of a series of mishaps involving the turboprop Electra and the second in less than three weeks, brought urgent demands for investigation.

As the Civil Aeronautics Board ordered seven investigators to the scene, Rep. Steven B. Derouin, R-N.Y., called for a congressional inquiry. Rep. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., calling for corrective action by the Federal Aviation Agency, said "structural deficiencies found in this airplane have not been corrected."

But Gen. E.R. Quesada, federal aviation administrator, said sketchy information available did not seem to show any relation between Tuesday's crash and previous accidents involving Electras.

The plane took off from Logan International Airport at 5:45 p.m. bound for Philadelphia, Charlotte, N.C., Greenville, S.C., and Atlanta. It came down about 200 yards offshore.

15 Marine Recruits Aboard

Among the 67 passengers were 15 Marine Corps recruits en route to Parris Island, S.C. Ten of them were among the known dead. At least three others were injured.

"The thing was split wide open," said Lt. Cmdr. Everett Cook, USNR, who saw the plane after it nosed into the water off the Winthrop Yacht Club.

"When I got there part of the plane was still afloat," said Cmdr. Donald Regan, USNR, one of the first to reach the scene. "A good many of the passengers were strapped to their seats and could not get out. The seats were floating. I noticed that their weight was pulling them over so that their heads were in the water."

"They were all a mess — blood, broken legs, split skulls and everything else."

Eastern Airlines at Miami at first said the pilot, Capt. C.W. Fitts, and copilot M.J. Calloway, survived. But later the airline could not confirm this and they could not be located in any hospital.

The body of Flight Engineer Malcolm M. Hall of Memphis, Tenn., was recovered.

Two Stewardesses Survived

Two stewardesses survived, identified by the airline as Joan Berry, 22, of Prentice, Miss., and Patricia Davies of Jacksonville, Fla.

"It happened so fast there was no time to think. We were up in the air — then suddenly we hit the water. I remember calling for the pilot and copilot. There was no answer," Miss Berry said.

"I opened the rear door and pushed myself out. The pain from my broken leg was so severe I passed out."

Hundreds joined in the rescue effort — police, firemen, owners of small boats, skin divers, pilots of Coast Guard helicopters and boats and Navy ships. Men waded knee deep through oil-smeared muck of the mud flats to bring back bodies.

Late at night, in the light of a full moon, skin divers tried repeatedly to attach lines to the wreckage in 20 feet of water.

West Branch Picks Former School Site

West Branch School Board announced last night the site of its proposed new high school. The structure will be built on a 51-acre tract south of Beloit on Rt. 173. The land was purchased at a cost of $40,000.

This is the fourth time that a bond issue for a new high school has been proposed and it is the same land that has been on previous bond issues. However, this is the first time for West Branch High School. The bond was initiated last July and will appear on the ballot in November.

The amount of the bonds is for $1,150,000 and includes the cost of the new high school and an additional four rooms at Goshen Center.

The board acknowledged the receiving of a letter from Mahoning County School Superintendent W. C. Smith regarding the division of inequity between West Branch Local School District and Mahoning Local School District and they will further study the letter in consideration of each taxpayer.

West Branch Local School District's share of the division bond debt is $113,439.29.

Mrs. Rhea Emmons, clerk for West Branch Local School District, released her monthly financial statement. Balance on hand Sept. 1 was $195,753.81 with receipts totaling $37,654.68 giving a grand total of $233,518.49.

Expenditures amounted to $41,903.66 giving a balance on Sept. 30, 1960 of $191,614.83. Outstanding warrants were $38.75 making a bank balance for Sept. 30, 1960, $191,703.58.

The general fund amounted to $72,170.16; bond retirement fund $12,301.76, and the cafeteria fund was $7,142.91 making a grand total for the clerk's balance as of Sept. 30, 1960, $191,614.83.

The board announced increases on the salary scale for the following teachers:

Neutral Nations Push Resolution

U.N. Discusses Meeting Between Ike, Nikita

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A neutralist resolution urging a meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev comes up for discussion in the U. N. General Assembly today, even though both leaders have expressed strong distaste for the proposal.

The five sponsors pressed ahead, nevertheless, hoping that an overwhelming vote in favor of the meeting may change the positions Eisenhower and Khrushchev have stated.

Debate on the neutralist resolution coincided with increasing discussion among delegates about another summit conference, possibly next spring. An Australian amendment urging a Big Four meeting—but without specifying the time—also is on the docket for the General Assembly today.

Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan discussed it with Khrushchev Tuesday in a private conference lasting 75 minutes.

The New York Herald Tribune reported that Macmillan and Khrushchev prepared the ground for a spring Big Four summit meeting, possibly in Geneva. Khrushchev reportedly wanted the meeting in January or February, immediately after Eisenhower's successor is inaugurated. But Macmillan argued that the new president should have more time to settle into his new office, the newspaper said.

The desire among other Assembly delegates for top-level talks, either between Eisenhower and Khrushchev, or between the Big Four, reflected the prevailing sense of forboding that grips the Assembly now—a dark feeling of rising danger and no outlook otherwise for heading it off.

Khrushchev's volcanic attack on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, the world's apart positions on disarmament of East and West and the reasons given by Khrushchev and Eisenhower for not wanting to see each other at this time, all contributed to the bleak atmosphere at the U. N.

After having told Hammarskjöld to his face that he doesn't trust him and demanding his resignation, the Soviet leader invited the secretary to a huge and glittering reception at the Soviet headquarters Tuesday.

Hammarskjöld, ever the imperious diplomat, accepted.

When they met, Khrushchev threw his arms around Hammarskjöld in a hearty Russian bear hug, Hammarskjöld smiled. But his expression, as always, was undecipherable.

Then, in the next instant, Khrushchev made it clear that the

Man Nabbed In Akron Holdup

Son Caught Earlier In $62,628 Robbery

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A railroad detective nabbed Joseph E. Evans early Wednesday and police said he admitted his part in a father-son bank robbery here last month that netted $62,628.

Capt. Carroll Cutright said $4,000 the 55-year-old Evans had hidden in Akron was recovered shortly after the capture.

On Sept. 26 the West Akron branch of the First National Bank was held up by a gun-wielding man who wore dark glasses, and a man in overalls who had a white handkerchief over his face. It was Akron's biggest bank robbery.

FBI agents broke the case Monday by arresting Evans' son, William Ellsworth Evans, 16, at his mother's home in Pittsburgh. They quoted him as saying he scooped up the money while his father held the gun, and got only $5 as his share of the holdup.

Then the FBI arrested Mrs. Kathryn Evans, 50, the mother, on charges of receiving stolen property, and said she turned over to them $47,500 of the stolen money.

The elder Evans had been in the custody of Akron police last Friday for questioning in another matter, but had been released. A fugitive warrant was issued for him Tuesday.

Meanwhile Mrs. Evans had spent $1,700 of the loot, federal agents said, adding that Evans had left Pittsburgh for Chicago with $13,200.

Mayor Asks Reduction Of City Safety Forces

Council Hears Gloomy Report On City Finances

Meeting Scheduled Thursday on Street Weight Ordinance

A gloomy picture of the city's finances was presented to City Council Tuesday night by Fred Koenreich, chairman of Council's finance committee.

The report, prepared by City Auditor Helen Coyne, revealed that after the city pays its outstanding bills and makes provision to meet its estimated payroll for the balance of this year, the general fund will contain only $3,372 to defray its other expenses for the rest of 1960.

Had $14,599 Sept. 1

According to the report, the city had $14,599 in the general fund on Sept. 1. In the interim the city received a total of $17,349 from the final real estate tax settlement, state health subsidy, inheritance tax, cigarette license fees and fire contract with Perry Township.

Estimated receipts for the balance of the year from mayor's court, sales tax, parking meters and other sources amount to $37,784, making a total of $89,732 in money on hand and anticipated revenue.

$18,358 In Unpaid Bills

Unpaid bills totaled $18,358 on Sept. 1, and the estimated payroll for the rest of the year is $68,000, leaving the figure of $3,372.

A similar dismal report was given by streets committee chairman Arthur Hanna. "Our finances are in bad shape," he said. "A number of the streets are in poor condition and some of them may receive no treatment at all."

In other business, Council scheduled a committee - of - the - whole meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. with Mayor Dean B. Cranmer and City Solicitor James Primm to go over a street weight ordinance proposed by the mayor some time ago.

Date Suggested by Abe

The date was suggested by Councilman Carl Abe, who criticized the mayor for causing the delay in enacting the ordinance. At previous sessions Abe had said he was unable to arrange meetings on the ordinance with the mayor and city solicitor.

Under the measure, the city would keep all the fines and costs levied against truckers cited for overload by city authorities at the municipal parking lot on E. Pershing.

At present, with state highway patrolmen operating the scales, the city retains only $27.50 of every $100 collected in fines, with the balance going to the state and county.

Negotiating For Lot

Mayor Cranmer told the lawmakers negotiations are still in progress for the purchase of one lot on the site of the proposed municipal parking lot on E. Pershing St. Options are held on the other needed properties, he said.

He intimated the city may have to start condemnation proceedings to acquire the final lot. He said he had hoped that the city could complete the excavation and construct a base on the site this year, but the delay may have placed that objective out of reach.

Art Class for Public Planned At High School

An art class for adults and students will begin Oct. 12 at the Senior High School and continue throughout the school term.

Registration may be made at the Trade Extension Office at the school, with the fee to be $10. Those desiring more information may call Holland Cameron at the Trade Extension Office.

Chemical Plant Blast Kills 11

Tennessee Explosion Injured 60 Others

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — A savage blast—which claimed 11 lives and left at least 60 others injured ripped through a sprawling chemical plant here Tuesday and rocked this upper East Tennessee city of 26,000 people.

Today officials of the Tennessee Eastman Corp. began probing smoldering rubble of the smashed section of the 400-acre plant in an effort to determine the cause.

The explosion occurred in the acid division of the aniline processing section where dyes are made. Officials said the building is operated by remote control and normally no workmen are inside.

Downtown Kingsport—a mile and a half from the plant—was shaken and shattered glass from store windows littered the streets. The blast was heard 20 miles away in Johnson City.

"It happened just like that, no warning, didn't know what was happening," said Earl Whetsel, an Eastman pipefitter, "the blast, then glass and stuff flying around."

Fire touched off by the explosion raged for about three hours before it was brought under control.

An unidentified guard at a nearby ordnance plant said he was driving along in his truck when the blast occurred. "It sent my truck through the air for about 100 yards," he said, "but I landed right side up. I didn't now what had happened."

The plant, a subsidiary of Eastman Kodak Corp., produces plastic, cellulose fibers, polyethylene and other chemicals.

About 8,500 persons are employed in the Eastman operation here.

Coroner Schedules Detweiler Inquest

Dr. William Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner, has scheduled an inquest Thursday night at Columbiana village hall to investigate the cause of death of Mrs. Ardis Detweiler, 47, of Columbiana, who was found dead in her automobile Sept. 16.

She was the wife of Fred Detweiler, Columbiana funeral director. The coroner criticized a report published by the Youngstown Vindicator yesterday which he said was incorrect and gave wrong impressions.

Columbiana Police Chief William McGuckin is assisting the coroner in the investigation. Dr. Kolozsi said, "We believe Mrs. Detweiler died from carbon monoxide fumes from the car but if anyone has other information they are urged to attend the inquest at 7 p.m.," the coroner said.

1,000 Attend Democratic Rally

Hays Attacks Foreign Policy In Talk Here

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the Ohio 18th District, speaking at a Democratic rally at the American-Slovak hall here Tuesday night, criticized the Eisenhower administration for not showing initiative in foreign policy.

An overflow crowd of nearly 1,000 persons heard Congressman Hays declare that the present administration had reacted only to Mr. Khrushchev's offensive, "playing strictly a defensive game with no touchdowns."

The speaker said that the next four to eight years will require some decisive action regarding U. S. foreign policy.

Hays recalled a conversation he had with the Russian premier several years ago when Mr. Khrushchev said he did not have to wage war on the United States because the Soviet Union would gradually persuade other countries to adopt communism until America was isolated. "This has been proven," Hays said.

In discussing aid to distressed areas and social security, Mr. Hays said Congress passed a bill providing $250 million to help economically distressed districts but that President Eisenhower vetoed it, favoring increased foreign aid.

Touching on social security and medical aid to the aged, the congressman said "The Republicans have consistently opposed a broader program but now are talking as though they were the initiators of increased medical aid for the aged."

Atty. Guy Mauro, vice chairman of the Columbiana County Democratic party, was master of ceremonies last night, while County Chairman Don Gosney introduced Mr. Hays.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer gave the welcoming address after he was presented by City Democratic Chairman William Steffel.

John Taylor introduced state candidates and Mrs. Mary Brian, city co-chairman, presented county candidates.

Refreshments were served by the Democratic women's club headed by Mrs. Frances Hannay.

To Give Talk at Reilly Field

Kennedy to Speak In Salem Sunday Evening

Democratic Presidential Candidate John Kennedy will come to Salem Sunday afternoon to make a short speech at Reilly Stadium.

Party leaders said today that Kennedy will travel to Salem after making earlier afternoon appearances at Youngstown and Warren. His talk here at about 6 o'clock will be his only stop in Columbiana County.

County Democratic Chairman Don R. Gosney said plans will be completed today for a program at Reilly Stadium, which will begin at 5 p.m. Sunday. Mr. Kennedy is expected to arrive in a motor caravan from Warren and make his appearance at the stadium sometime about 6.

He will be accompanied by Ohio Gov. Michael DeSalle and Congressman Wayne L. Hays. Kennedy will be in Cincinnati Thursday and then fly back to Washington before returning to Ohio Sunday for his appearance in Youngstown, Warren and Salem. Gosney said tentative arrangements had been made for Mr. Kennedy to visit Salem but that no announcement could be made until late yesterday because the date had not been confirmed by national headquarters.

It will mark the first visit to Salem by a presidential candidate in many years.

Urges Layoffs Of 2 Firemen, 2 Policemen

Other Personnel, Work Cuts Sought As Economy Acts

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer recommended to City Council Tuesday night the reduction of safety and service personnel and a slash in the wages of at least one other city employee to help alleviate the city's acute financial condition.

The mayor, who declared the city could effect a saving of $2,500 monthly if Council approved his recommendations, declared he is studying other means of curtailing expenses and would report on his findings soon.

Council Defers Action

At a suggestion from Council President Michael Schuller, in line with opinions voiced by Councilmen Carl Abe and Fred Koenreich, Council deferred action on the mayor's recommendations until he presents them to Council in full aid in writing.

Specifically, Mayor Cranmer recommended that the city lay off two firemen and two policemen, and, when repair work on the streets is completed, lay off two street employees.

He suggested also that the City Hall janitor's wages be decreased. He said the working hours of other employees could be cut, pointing out that the street sweeper already has been restricted to operating every two days instead of every morning.

Approved Recommendations
The mayor said he had met with Service Director James Fellner and Safety Director Richard McConnell and they had agreed upon his recommendations.

Opposition to the mayor's proposals was voiced by Koenreich who said a cut in fire department personnel would result in an increase in industrial and commercial fire rates.

He declared that because of the efficient manner in which the fire department was conducted, Salem at present had one of the lowest fire rate schedules among comparable towns in Ohio.

Councilman Ralph Zimmerman said he favored cutbacks in other areas instead of reducing the safety forces.

Acting independently of the mayor, Councilman Donald Cannon, chairman of Council's street lighting committee, reported that the committee recommended the dismissal of the assistant city electrician, presumably because of a lack of materials to work with.

When he presented his report later in the meeting, Cannon stated the committee had to reject recent requests for installation of street lights because the city does not have the necessary materials, "not even the wire."

No Action On Income Tax

Council took no action last night on the income tax ordinance which it passed Aug. 23 but was vetoed by the mayor Sept. 7.

The measure, which called for a tax rate of one half of one per cent, requires a two thirds vote of all members in order to become law over the mayor's veto.

In connection with the proposed income tax, Councilman Koenreich declared the figure of $200,000 mentioned by the mayor in newspapers as the amount the city would derive annually from the tax was erroneous.

He declared the original proposed rate of six-tenths of one per cent would have yielded approximately $180,000 yearly, according to the income tax expert who had advised the city. Consequently, the one-half of one per cent rate contained in the present ordinance would produce approximately $150,000 a year, he said.

One of the reasons Mayor Cranmer cited for vetoing the bill was that the annual yield was more than the city needed.

Budget Director Says Economy High

Business Outlook Good Despite Cut In Anticipated Revenues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today held to its claim that the business outlook is good despite a sharp cutback in anticipated revenues.

The reduction, almost wholly in corporation income taxes, combined with a rise in government spending to slash from $4.2 billion to $1.1 billion the administration's estimate of the treasury surplus expected at the end of the current fiscal year.

Pupils Criticize Parents at PTA Meeting

CLEVELAND (AP)—A panel of three high school students gave parents attending the Ohio PTA convention here Tuesday an idea of how they look to some teenagers.

Parents don't measure up too well, the Cleveland school students agreed in their discussion of "the challenge of a new decade."

"There should be more family life," said Terry Bettner of West Technical High School. "Families should attend shows together and eat their meals together. There are too many split-shift meals."

"There's not enough home life," echoed Bill Schlatterbeck of Lincoln High. "Parents go one place; teenagers go another."

Audrey Pericha of John Adams noted that many children "will confide in a friend before they will a parent. There is just no family confidence any more."

Parents attending the 55th annual convention of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers heard more critical words from Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, president of Ohio State University.

Citing results of a recent Ford Foundation survey, Fawcett said in a speech that parents are failing to make adequate provision for higher education for their children — "one of the most urgent and important responsibilities which they face today."

Parents should "put first things first" and make sacrifices to see that funds for educating their children are available, the University president declared. He urged parents also to "put forth images of scholarship and intellectualism in the home."

He said the Ford Foundation survey showed that 60 per cent of parents interviewed had no savings plan to provide college education for their children. The 40 per cent which had such plans put aside only an average of $150 for this purpose last year.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans announced the revised estimate Tuesday. The government usually reviews its budget figures after Congress adjourns, but this year its report plopped into the middle of a presidential election campaign in which the present and future of the nation's economy is an issue.

Stans said the economy is now operating at a high level. He anticipated a perhaps better than usual pickup in business for the last three months of this year and said government and other economists are expressing no alarm about the first two quarters of next year.

That would round out the fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

For the 1960-61 fiscal year, the Budget Bureau gave these new estimates:

Receipts, $81.5 billion, down $2.5 billion from the originally expected $84 billion; expenditures, $80.4 billion, up $600 million from the original $79.8 billion; new spending authority voted by Congress, $82 billion, up $2.6 billion from the original $79.4 billion.

President Eisenhower announced the previous estimates when he sent his budget recommendation to Congress last January. He suggested then that all the surplus be used to reduce the national debt, which now totals about $289 billion.

Stan said the Democratic-controlled Congress boosted expenditures and reduced government income by about $2 billion. Part of this will be offset by trimming expenditures in some federal programs, he said.

A drop in corporation profits from the administration's rosy forecast of $51 billion in January accounted for 80 per cent of the downward revision in estimated revenue. The Treasury now puts the figure at $47 billion, same as last year's record.

CASE GETS LARGE GIFT

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Charles L. Horn, president of the Olin Foundation of New York City, announced at a convocation Tuesday the foundation is giving Case Institute of Technology $1,637,000. The gift, largest in Case's history, will be used to build an eight-story Olin laboratory of materials sciences on the western edge of the campus. Construction is expected to start early next year. The Olin Foundation was established in 1938 by Franklin Walter Olin who made a fortune in the chemical industry.

Sidewalks, parking lots and even airport runways are becoming the banking places of the nation.

Surveys show that some banks are doing as much as 75 per cent of their business at outside tellers' windows.

The average is nearly 25 per cent for institutions having such facilities. Walk-up and drive-in banking is changing the country's banking habits. Outside windows relieve congestion on the bank floor at peak periods and help move local traffic, too.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Apparently the federales, the Chicago police and I have commonly come upon a union official linked to an urbane gang chief who not so long ago refused to deny he had "any scruples against people."

Victor Riesel

That gang chief is Tony Accardo, whose assignment it once was to make certain that Al Capone was untouchable. Accardo's philosophical attitude towards murder was placed on the record long after Capone died. By then Tony had reached that place in affluent society where he began depositing hundreds of thousands of dollars in Swiss banks.

It was on July 11, 1958, that Sen. John McClellan put Accardo on the stand. The senator asked him: "Do you have any scruples against killing people?" Accardo refused to answer on the ground that it might incriminate him.

Accardo has gone the way of all syndicate crime flesh. He now is up in court on an income tax evasion indictment.

IT DEVELOPS that the federales have discovered that one of his friends and part time business associates is Al Pillotto, president of the Hod Carriers Local 5, Chicago Heights.

They had a working agreement in something called the Owl Club, a gambling joint. President Pillotto also did a fine business in strip tease entertainment in a bit of Sodom and Gomorrah now as State Street in Calumet City.

There is some doubt that the street of swill is a satisfactory officers' training school for leadership in a union. But that hasn't apparently reached national Hod Carriers headquarters, which is now a chunk of neo-classic architecture in Washington called the Joseph V. Moreschi Building.

At this writing, Pillotto still is president of the local though the of-vice of U.S. Attorney Robert Ogilvie in Chicago and the Chicago gentlemanly themselves have him under investigation.

President and Brother Al Pillotto would not be more than a passing story if he was not symptomatic of what's happening in other Hod Carriers locals — and the locals of some other international labor organizations.

When these stories finally break wide open, they will find labor's high command where it was on the eve of the McClellan committee probe — failing to police itself.

THE FEDERAL and local authorities will be blamed for the scandals they dug up. And Accardo's contacts will go on doing business as usual, chided but not chastened.

Fact is that the Compliance Division of the U.S. Labor Department's Section on Reporting and Disclosure has been probing Hod Carriers and Common Laborers locals not only in Chicago but in the New York and Pittsburgh areas as well.

Fact is that Accardo is now under the spotlight and it soon will be revealed that he has other contacts in other cities — in the Hotel and Restaurant Workers locals in northern Mid Western cities.

This is no "movie." This is real life. Accardo doesn't cultivate union officials out of sheer affection for the proletariat. His word is law.

To him, the union posts which his friends can capture are part of a business. He uses them to push his interests against legitimate businessmen by killing off sales an competition.

Those are the locals in his barony. Other crime chiefs capture other locals and turn them into corrupt boroughs inside big international unions.

If topside doesn't clean them out and permits the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee to suffocate in some pigeonhole, the scandals will break out.

It will be no one's fault but those who just did not bother with what is happening down below.

And from inside there should be no criticism of the authorities who take seriously their task of defending the people, all the people.

Hammer and Sickle Treatment

Nikita Khrushchev's idea of oratory is a rocket-burst of tirade and invective, wholly out of place in the United Nations.

Khrushchev knows this. He is no fool. He is trying to bring about a certain effect with his table-thumping orations.

It is not part of his tactics to strive for restraint shown by other General Assembly speakers, most notable President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan. In the rough-and-tumble school of Communist survival, from which Premier Khrushchev was graduated with the highest honor anyone can attain—a long life—there is no credit for restraint. The basic tactic is to go for the jugular.

The jugular Khrushchev is going for in the present instance is Dag Hammarskjöld, secretary-general of the United Nations.

It must be understood, however, that Khrushchev is not interested in Hammarskjöld as an individual. The purpose of using him as the primary target is to let the blood out of the United Nations.

When the United Nations intervened successfully in the Republic of Congo to keep the Communist agents from moving into control of the government, it asked for the Hammer and Sickle in retaliation—the H & S treatment.

THE FIRST U.N. secretary-general got the H & S treatment, too. Trygve Lie's lease on diplomatic life was withdrawn when he defied the Communist line on Korea.

There is only one way to earn the cooperation of the Communist bloc in the United Nations. That is to do nothing to incur the bloc's resentment.

There is no Golden Mean in the Communist Conspiracy. There is no Golden Rule for Communists. There are no compromises, no philosophy of give-and-take, no shrugging off an occasional defeat with "You can't win 'em all."

This is what Premier Khrushchev has been making plain about all else in the United Nations. He is doing it deliberately. He thinks the time is ripe to make his move.

Logistics of the Great Debacle

If you live in the hinterlands of America your idea of the biggest operation in logistics is a fleet of lumbering school buses scudding hither and yon picking up and delivering thousands of school children five days a week.

Autos Get Better

There could be an argument about this with old-time auto buffs, but can anyone honestly doubt after looking at the photographs and the first ready-for-sale models of the new automobiles that they get better all the time?

In America, everything is supposed to get better. It once was supposed to get bigger and better, but auto designers finally conceded there was a limit to the size of a vehicle that had to be supplied with gasoline and space.

They have made other concessions, too. Such as the concession that an automobile is not a Christmas tree, to be covered with senseless decorations. And the concession that its passengers are not contortionists. Also the concession that speed limits make it ridiculous to build cars with a potentiality of going 120 miles an hour.

The point is that the new automobiles are better—not bigger but better. Even in America, that's a distinction, because not every American enterprise can boast without fear of successful contradiction that it has shown continuous improvement. Many must apologize from time to time for making progress in reverse.

Once Over

Dear Uncle Sam: Why can't you get some kayo wallops into our U.N. routines? Emily Post passed away over a week ago but your spokesmen seem to be acting as replacements in the presentation of formats for the "correct thing."

Courtesy is swell but in this World Fight Club where some delegates are having a field day swinging from the floor, using the kidney punch with horseshoes in the gloves, the is no percentage in performing like well-raised tennis players.

Your delegates don't often look, talk or act as if in the main bout with some of the toughest lads on earth. They act as cool as if they were well-bred corporation directors somewhat disturbed by an uncouth member spitting on the floor.

You are up against scene chasers, table whackers, rule breakers and some of the roughest dramatic actors ever seen under one roof. But the over-all impression is that our boys are delivering singing-telegrams and rehearsing for a choral group rendition of "Hearts and Flowers," with offstage voices from the Vassar Daisy Chorus.

I find Secretary Herter so gracious he could be addressing the Harvard Glee Club. Mr. Wadsworth strikes me as indignant as if he were back at Yale in a snowball frolic. "Let's be refined, no matter how we are insulted, and kicked in the chin," is not enough.

The blazing truths are on our side but we dim the heat and fire. Why such patience? You are Uncle Sam, not Lord Chesterfield. Get steamed up, please!

Yours, Joe Q. Citizen.

IF KHRUSHCHEV, the table-thumper,

The Gromykos and Vishnys, the Molotovs and the Menshikovs were all right in their way and in their day. But in 1960 it's Khrushchev, himself, who is telling the world what the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic stands for.

The question is why he has picked this time and this way to do it.

He has made it clear what kind of a United Nations he wants—an organization subservient to the Communist Conspiracy.

He has made it clear there is no place in his kind of an organization for neutrals—that every government either would take its orders from the Communists or join the governments that the Communists say they will "bury."

Khrushchev has set up Secretary-General Hammarskjöld as the horrible example of what will happen to anyone whose sense of duty causes him to thwart Communist designs.

IF HIS PURPOSE was to scare people who formerly had been no more than disturbed by the Communist Conspiracy, Khrushchev has been a whooping success.

If his intent was to show the 20th century world there is no middle ground between the political absolutists who dictate to Russians and Chinese and the people who believe governments should be established and maintained only by the consent of the governed, the exhibition by Khrushchev has been a whopping success.

This is apparently what the No. 1 Russian set out to do and it's a good guess that he did it because it is what the No. 1 Chinese, Mao Tse-tung wants him to do. It is exactly what Mao has been preaching: That there is no middle ground.

The time may not be far distant when Mao will emerge as Khrushchev's complete master.

The 20th century world still hasn't caught up to the 20th century fact that upward of two billion Chinese are the backbone of the Communist Conspiracy, instead of a few more than 200 million Russians.

the other hand, it is Hannibal marching on Rome via the Alps, or the Allied armies crossing the English Channel.

But if you're in electronics, the biggest logistics operation imaginable is television and radio coverage of a presidential campaign. National Broadcasting Co. has had to revise its plan to hold the Friday installment of the "Great Debate" in Cleveland because it simply couldn't make available everything it needed to put on the show.

It's hard to realize why there must be hundreds of people and tons of equipment, when all that appears on the screen are two men and a master of ceremonies in the background. But there are no simple operations in the electronics industry.

Everything it touches becomes as involved as Laocoon and his sons grappling with the serpents. Technicians buzz like flies over the cake table at a plant picnic. Everybody scurries. Experts bite their nails. Makeup men juggle powder puffs. Milling throngs must be kept at bay.

In the final countdown at Cleveland, there just wasn't that much chaos available. NBC had to make a switch to Washington, where all the elements of chaos are present at all times.

The Great Debate, as the public is encouraged to think of it, is the Great Debacle as far as the electronics industry is concerned. The industry's experts will be lucky if they don't wind up one of these performances with a blank screen and no sound; no one will have remembered to plug in the paraphernalia that is threatening to engulf television.

"Sunrise at Campobello" in movie form is better than stage play. In our book it is due to the sensational step of Hollywood in casting as F.D.R. the actor, Ralph Bellamy, who played the role in the theater. If it ran true to form it would have given part to Jimmy Cagney, Mickey Rooney or Frank Sinatra.

Poll shows that of all old gospel hymns the favorite is, "The Old Rugged Cross." Second, third and fourth choices are, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "In the Garden" and "How Great Thou Art." Grand old hymns, but what about "Rock of Ages," "Lead Kindly Light," "Bringing in the Sheaves," and "Crown Him The King of Kings"? "I Love to Tell the Story," has always been far up, but the 1960 poll dropped it to 20th place, it is announced. Our belief is that the poll takers goofed on this one and that it still rates far up.

What's become of old-fashioned presidential candidate who kicked the duff out of his opponent, no holds barred.

Mrs. Leona Schueller, of Crab Orchard, Neb., won $25,000 first prize in the nation's baking contest, not by going in for elaborate pastries but with a LOAF OF BREAD! It was a schnazzy loaf, called the "Dilly Caserole," but it's good to see home-made bread back in any form. Who remembers Mom kneading the dough, putting it in the big pan overnight and baking it in the morning, filling the old homestead with an unforgettable aroma?

"A Poor Show"

By RAYMOND MOLEY

This merely adds a bit of volume to the roar of catcalls, foot-stamping, and desk pounding that has been directed at the awful flop of the enormous industry that is still trying to be an art-television.

The Nixon-Kennedy debate offers to use that Kennedy cliché, a "challenge" to television.

To borrow again from the candidate, if this is "the new frontier" of entertainment, then let us turn back and run like everything to the days when crowds were addressed with only raw vocal cords, and the background with a barn-like public hall or a street corner. Or let us have a return to the Globe Theater of Shakespeare's day.

I have heard more than one witness to the horror like the scene, which an estimated 60 million witnessed, to the Sing Sing death chamber.

Lacking only was a clergyman chanting a prayer and a policeman or two. All the rest was an accurate verisimilitude to that ghoulish scene.

ANOTHER COMPARISON I have heard was to the first scene of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," where there was nothing on the stage at all and the audience was confronted only with the grim brick walls of the theater and the narrator dragging out a kitchen chair.

Is this what we might expect from the horde employed by the networks—scene designers, lighting experts, make-up artists, and other production geniuses supported by revenue from beer, cigarettes, and deodorants?

Lincoln and Douglas had no such allegedly artistic army to help They supplied their own histrionics. The handsome, well-tailored Douglas was a consummate actor. Lincoln was an image-maker without help from Madison Avenue. Even his whiskers, which came later, were added for effect.

When he rose to respond, he was dressed in a long duster, and to take the audience interest from his opponent he slowly unbuckled the whole garment, in the center of the stage, from neck to ankle.

Now in this age, the participants had a right to expect the details of production to be supplied by the experts. But they were perched on chairs which were suitable for the place of shame occupied by the school dunce.

Nobody seemed to remember that the vice president had a stiff and sore knee. He had to assume a posture while seated which looked like a man who had happened to sit down on a hot griddle of pancakes.

The podium from which they were compelled to speak was merely a slim post surmounted by a slab; legs and feet were in full view like the extremities of a couple of horse thieves hanging from a tree.

KENNEDY AND NIXON were too far apart for such chums, polite adversaries, former fellow congressmen.

The three (or were there four?) spoons in the foreground who were supposed to provide questions were extracted from among the network newsmen.

By their questions they indicated that they might know more about gang warfares and warehouse fires than the national issues in one of the most complex and critical periods in American politics.

It is small wonder that the participants, both seasoned campaigners, acted with the nervousness of a couple of 12-year-olds reciting "The Turk who in his guarded tent lay dreaming of the hour."

Since a writer is constantly challenged to be "constructive," here are a couple of suggestions.

Eliminate the networks' newsmen. Have as moderator a mature, respected, well-informed and perfectly impartial Federal Court of Appeals judge.

Have the setting in a room like a well-appointed private chamber of a judge. Let the participants sit in nice, comfortable leather chairs. Have a series of issues—a few rather than many—agreed upon in advance.

Then get down to brass tacks and let the judge keep the participants to the point, just as any competent judge does with opposing lawyers.

The American people, even though they must break many laws, respect their courts. They can understand this sort of search for truth and a matching of arguments.

Another such television gass as we had, and most of the 60 million will go to bed on the succeeding occasions.

Dictator Tactics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Nikita Deeply Interested In American Election

Is the danger of a world war being increased by what is happening at the current meeting of the United Nations in New York City?

The speeches at the General Assembly use high-sounding phrases about "peace and disarmament," and there are frequent references to the need for a "reduction of tensions."

But the stark fact stands out that one man—ruthless, capricious, arbitrary and volatile in temperament—can at a moment's notice order a huge military operation to start a small war or a big war on any continent.

Nikita Khrushchev is giving the world a demonstration of the power of his dictatorship over tens of millions of people not only in the Soviet Union but in the captive countries which his armies control.

He is also given an exhibition of how he exerts a coercive power over a group of so-called neutralist nations which do his bidding.

Khrushchev is still being considered by too many people on this side of the Iron Curtain as merely a bizarre individual who is endeavoring to restrain a war-like Red China and who is himself supposedly anxious to maintain peace.

But Adolf Hitler, who was also something of a showman, was able to convince many people inside and outside the allied governments in the 1930s that he, too, wanted only peace. Suddenly he unleashed his military forces even while the western powers were negotiating with him.

THE MENTALITY of a Khrushchev is scarcely different from that of a Stalin, who, in the midst of apparently friendly negotiations with the West in the summer of 1939, made an alliance with Hitler that enabled the latter to start World War II by concentrating on one military front.

Expediency of the moment usually governs the impulses of a dictator.

The whole world has been watching Khrushchev since he broke up the summit conference at Paris last May. What was hoped would be a passing storm turned out to be the beginning of a diplomatic hurricane, with frequent changes in direction but no loss of intensity.

Instead of negotiating seriously with the West, the Moscow dictator has threatened and bludgeoned. He has rendered futile all conferences or commissions which previously had been started with the idea of setting up some "modus vivendi" or temporary arrangement to prevent another world war.

THE SOVIET premier has unwittingly managed to unite the western leaders but he is nevertheless playing a bold hand. He is convinced that the United States as already repudiated President Eisenhower and is ready to administer a resounding defeat to the present administration at the presidential election next month.

Coming to the United States in the midst of the political campaign, the Soviet dictator is undoubtedly taking seriously the many speeches made by prominent Americans declaring that the defenses of the United States are weak and that the Washington leadership has been so poor that American prestige has diminished throughout the world.

If what the critics are saying about their own country is true, Nikita Khrushchev would naturally feel that he has the upper hand and that, if he provokes a crisis, the government here will feel powerless to take stern measures there.

IN THE MONTH between now and the presidential election, it is unlikely that the Soviet leader would take precipitate action but can it be safely assumed that he would exercise the same restraint on the trouble-making side in the period between Election Day, Nov. 8, and Inauguration Day, Jan. 20?

If there is to be a change of administration here, and many high officials prepare to resign, would this be the time that Nikita Khrushchev might select to create a crisis of major proportions?

No government with a parliamentary system would hold an election under similar circumstances but would tend to postpone it until times were calmer.

To people abroad, the coming election in the United States hangs on an issue well known throughout the world—a vote of confidence or a vote of no confidence in the existing government.

Nikita Khrushchev is deeply interested in the American election contest. It could give him a cue for his big moves in 1961.

Nixon Buoyed In New Jersey

Vice President Gets Wild Reception

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon put a personal slant on his campaigning for New York's vital 45 electoral votes today after what he called a tremendous reception in New Jersey's vote-heavy heartland.

The Republican presidential nominee was buoyed to one of the highest pitches of his drive for the presidency by a tumultuous reception accorded him and Mrs. Nixon by a cheering and chanting crowd which overflowed the 13,000-seat National Guard Armory in West Orange, N.J., Tuesday night.

Local Republican leaders publicly hugged and kissed each other at the thundering success of their efforts to demonstrate that the GOP nominee has a good chance of carrying doubtful New Jersey.

It was by all odds the most raucous, unruly crowd of enthusiasts Nixon has encountered in a campaign that formerly has been marked largely by polite partisan receptions. Local officials said some of those who attended parked as much as two miles away and walked to the armory.

In his bid for New Jersey's 16 electoral votes, the vice president traveled about 75 miles by motorcade. His crowds were good. They were as large, and sometimes larger, than those attracted by his opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, in his journey through New Jersey a couple of weeks ago. But until the West Orange appearance there was lacking the high pitch of enthusiasm for Nixon that Kennedy engendered.

Nixon's motorcade was stopped often by so-called "unscheduled appearances." In these he lashed out vigorously at Kennedy.

Dealing in specific figures in an area of consumers, Nixon said that the program outlined by his opponent would add six cents to the cost of every quart of milk, 28 cents to the price of a dozen eggs, 22 cents to each pound of chicken, 23 cents on pork costs and 15 cents a pound of beef.

"That's what my opponent's farm plan would do for all Americans," he said. He added that if Kennedy's proposals were put into effect they would "force up the consumer price index — often called the cost of living — by at least 6 per cent."

THE '61 PONTIAC IS OUT TODAY!

on a new Wide-Track!

New track-to-body proportion! The track is the width between the wheels. Pontiac is the only Wide-Track car. Body width is reduced, shaving side overhang, balancing more weight between the wheels. Best relationship of body width to wheel width ever tailored. Lean and sway are ancient history.

Announcing the new Pontiac Trophy V-8 Engine! We've improved the engine the experts said was perfect. New fuel induction system saves gas by using more air in the gasoline mixture. This makes the engine breathe more efficiently, giving you better acceleration. Eleven versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression ratio lets you use regular gas.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR!
Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.

2nd Phase of Cancer Study Under Way

Louis C. Moushey, chairman of the Salem cancer fund drive sponsored annually by Salem Council, United Commercial Travelers of America announces that his special team of survey workers who covered some 150 Salem families one year ago, will now proceed with the first follow-up program of last year's survey. William J. Mackey is vice chairman of this program.

In October, 1959 U.C.T. members and their wives made a special cancer survey in cooperation with the American Cancer Society which used this confidential questionnaire as a means of studying over a six-year period a cross section of Americans in an effort to detect causes of cancer not now recognized.

Each October in the six-year period, a follow-up report will be made by the workers. This report is based mainly on listing where the original participants are still living or if they have changed their addresses during this past year.

The ACS reports that it enrolled slightly over 2 per cent of all Americans between the ages of 45 and 59 and nearly 2 per cent of all Americans between the ages of 45 and 74. A total of 1,100,000 Americans completed these questionnaires.

Mrs. Gertrude C. Reese of East Liverpool is Columbiana County Coordinator for this survey program.

Fast Thieves Strip Car In 35 Minutes

Fast acting thieves in a 35-minute period Tuesday virtually removed everything but the frame from a car owned by Andy Kovach of Chestnut Grove Road.

Between 12:15 and 12:30 p.m., while the car was parked on private property on Painter Road, east of town, the thieves:

Removed three tires and wheels.

Forced open the trunk lid and took the spare wheel.

Jimmied a door, and stole five suits of clothing, two bags of other apparel, fishing reels, rods and tackle box.

Broke into the glove compartment and cleaned it out.

Kovach, who was picking apples while all this was going on, estimated his loss at $500. Perry Township Constable John Herman and county deputies are investigating.

E. Palestine Rejects Power Rate Schedule

EAST PALESTINE—City Council last night in a three-hour adjourned session rejected a proposed electric rate schedule which had been suggested to retire a $600,000 bond issue approved recently to finance a major improvement project at the municipal light plant.

Council agreed to meet again Thursday at 8 p.m. to study an alternate proposal which would place more of the financial burden on 2,000 domestic users.

The original proposal would have had the 243 commercial and industrial accounts paying up to 45 per cent of the increase and the domestic users from nothing up to 25 per cent.

The new proposal which Council will take up on Thursday would have the domestic and industrial and commercial users sharing the increase on a more equal basis.

The board received a notice from the State Department of Education of their approval of the expenditure of $618.50 under Title III of the National Defense Act to purchase a science laboratory table for the junior high school and additional science equipment for the high school. bear hug did not indicate any softening of his attitude.

Hammarskjold told Khrushchev the crowd was so great he had been forced to ask a Russian woman to lead him to his host.

"If you had a guide like that more often," Khrushchev shouted for all to hear, "we would have good relations."

Hammarskjold left the party a few minutes later.

Next, Khrushchev announced he would never blockade West Berlin.

This developed out of a bristling exchange with Marguerite Higgins, a correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, who asked whether the 2,250,000 West Berliners would continue to have the right to choose their own form of government, and would not be subjected to another Communist blockade.

"I can give you full assurance as far as I am concerned," Khrushchev replied. "I can assure you the government of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany) is of the same view."

But he qualified the statement by repeating that he intends to conclude a separate peace treaty with East Germany "So we may end the state of war."

However, he said: "West Berlin will become a free city and not only will there not be a blockade but all conditions will be created to assure that communications will be kept open with the outside world."

At a dinner given by the U. N. Correspondents Association, India's Prime Minister Nehru explained why the neutralists are pressing the resolution urging a Khrushchev-Eisenhower meeting.

Reporters asked what he hopes to achieve since Eisenhower and Khrushchev each took the position that policies pursued by the other, in the months since the collapse of the summit last May, were responsible for the rise in world tensions.

"I do get the impression of strong positions," Nehru said. "But not of the door being closed and bolted."

Claims Nixon Policies Lose Jobs

'Republican Unemployment' Cited By Kennedy In Indiana

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, in one of his sharpest attacks so far, said today a million workers have lost their jobs because of policies backed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"Republican unemployment," Kennedy called it.

The Democratic presidential nominee chose this section, which has been hit hard by closing factories, to lash out at GOP economic views—and at Nixon.

In his prepared speech, Kennedy claimed Nixon has said, "You never had it so good," after traveling through distressed areas.

"I say Mr. Nixon has looked, but he has not seen. He has heard, but he has not listened," Kennedy said.

"When it comes to our economy, he sees no evil, hears no evil, speaks no evil."

Even though it has but 13 electoral votes, Indiana has become a political battlefield this year.

Nixon has been here three times. Henry Cabot Lodge, his running mate, has been here once. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, has also paid one visit.

This is Kennedy's first trip, but he gave Indiana the full treatment.

Hearing Held on Installation of Railroad Signals

LISBON — A hearing was held Tuesday in the county commissioners' office before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in regard to installing warning signals at the Moultrie railroad crossing on Route 172 in West Township.

The Pennsylvania Railroad was asked to place signals at the crossing by the Columbiana County commissioners in the fall of 1958 after several residents and clubs in that vicinity had sent written requests to the commissioners.

Several surveys have been made by the railroad the last on Aug. 22-23 when, during a 16-hour period an average of 27 cars per hour were counted.

A previous hearing was held in Columbus, at which time the residents and the commissioners testified before the P.U.C.O. At least three meetings were postponed for various reasons since.

Thomas L. Startzman, attorney examiner of the P.U.C.O., was in charge of Tuesday's meeting.

Donald Brinkworth, assistant general solicitor of the P.R.R., handled the railroad's examination. Prosecutor G. William Brokaw acted for the commissioners and the county residents.

Only one witness was called Tuesday, Victor Vasvari, an inspector for the P.U.C.O. on leave from the Pennsylvania Railroad who gave the statistics of the last traffic count.

Startzman said all the facts would be studied by the P.U.C.O. and that its ruling would be announced later.

MAN KILLED IN CRASH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hauley Gayheart, 29, of St. Louisville (Licking County) was killed on the east side of Columbus last night when the car he was driving crashed into a tractor-trailer truck. The accident happened at the intersection of Groves and Hamilton roads. The driver of the tractor—Daniel E. Campbell, 35, of Franklin, Ind.—was not injured.

ARSON PROBED IN FIRES

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police said an arsonist may be the cause of two fires in two days in nearby Blue Ash. An unoccupied home had a loss estimated at $2,000 in a blaze Tuesday that fire said was set in several places in the house. Early Monday, an antique store was destroyed by a fire apparently set with gasoline, with a loss of $35,000.

When the Eiffel Tower was erected in Paris in 1887, a petition with 300 signatures demanded that the "tall, lanky pyramid" be torn down. Among those protesting were Alexandre Dumas and Guy de Maupassant.

FILSON CAMP, 88, oldest of the 90 members on the church roll, held the office of trustee for several years. He also has served as financial secretary and one year was a delegate to the Mt. Vernon conference, with which this church was formerly affiliated.

The George Harris family is the fourth generation, in his mother's family, to be active in this church. Mr. Harris' great-great-grandfather, Benjamin Harris, a millwright, built the old Hendrix mill at Teegarden. It was operated by water power from the Middle Fork of the Little Beaver Creek. The Leases are another four generation family active in the church. Milton

John is the most successful generation in the family to be the church carter. The others were Abner and John.

Miss Ida Jehu, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Murdock Jehu, served as church organist for 20 years. Miss Jehu is now an invalid in the Valley Nursing Home. The 56-year-old organ cost $65.

HISTORICAL RECORDS reveal that William Teegarden, an early settler who studied for the ministry in the Christian denomination, sowed the "seed" which resulted in the organization of Highland Christian Church, on Dec. 7, 1860. D. V. Hyde, a minister, also was active in preliminary meetings relative to the church organization. He served as the first pastor. The organization meeting was held at the old Teegarden home-stand on what is now known as Vincent Rd. There were 18 members. The first trustees were Uriah Teegarden, Ephrem Holloway, Joshua Spencer and H. W. Farmer. The church "Band of Union" in the first record book reads as follows:

"We the undersigned agree to bind ourselves together, to be known as Highland Christian Church. To take the Bible as our only rule of faith and practice."

HIGHLAND CHURCH was built in 1861 on an acre of land donated by Joel Johnson. The timber also was donated and the edifice was completed at a cost of $650. It was dedicated Oct. 6 of that year, with Elder John W. Ellis preaching the dedication sermon.

Case of Cattle Theft Is Reported to Sheriff

LISBON — Cattle theft in the county is being investigated by the sheriff's department.

Howard Diddle of Wellsville Rd. 1, reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday that between 10 and 11 p.m. Saturday he heard a shot but didn't investigate.

Tuesday morning when he counted his cattle he discovered one missing. Later he found the hide and intestines of a two-year-old Hereford which had been killed and the carcass removed.

CAR FIRE CHECKED

Firemen were called at 3:49 p.m. Tuesday to the corner of State and Broadway to extinguish a fire in a car owned by Mrs. John Ward of MC 1, Salem. A wiring short was blamed for the fire.

'Closing Out Sales' Bill Is Approved by Council

City Council Tuesday night passed an ordinance placing more stringent controls on "closing out sales."

The measure, given its first reading Sept. 21, had been submitted by Daniel Smith, a local jeweler, on behalf of area merchants.

It provides for the creation of a three-man commission to make certain additional merchandise is not brought into the store after the announcement of a close-out sale is made.

The ordinance was drafted, Smith said, because of some recent sales in town during which, it is believed, additional merchandise was trucked in after the sale had been advertised.

City Utility Superintendent Aubrey Hayes reported the city collected $15,237 in water rates during September and $6,872 in sewage rental fees.

Total water income for the year is $134,717, he said, and total sewage rental yield, $66,135.

The city pumped 42,314,000 gallons of water last month, and a total of 412 million so far this year, he said.

Support Post Office Plan Council Clerk Charles Alexander read letters addressed to federal post department authorities, pledging aid by all official city groups in the construction of a new post office here. The letters were approved by Council.

Mrs. Amil Cosma of 622 Washington Ave. asked whether the city could not force developers or individual property owners to install walks when building houses.

She declared it was silly to have school patrolmen aiding children across certain streets when the youngsters had to walk in the streets on their own.

Street committee chairman Arthur Hanna said a proposed ordinance which would regulate construction of walks and streets had been brought to the Council floor at least six times in the past two years, only to be referred back to committee.

Councilman Fred Koenreich said Council had not acted upon the measure because the city engineer and service director had not provided the street and sidewalk specifications required by Council.

Mrs. Cosma also wondered where the mayor intended to slash safety force personnel, and whether the police meier maids would be the first to be dismissed, since they were the last hired. The mayor at the start of the meeting had proposed cuts in safety personnel as a means of alleviating the city's financial condition.

However, he was not present when visitors were heard.

Mrs. Dorothy McKibbin of 317 Woodland Ave. criticized what she termed as "lax enforcement of the city's parking laws." She also wanted to know if the proposed cuts in safety personnel would result in an increase in insurance fire and theft rates.

Councilman Koenreich said it would raise industrial and commercial rates considerably. Residents would be affected less severely, he said.

Charles Floyd of N. Madison

Ave. asked whether it was not in the city's province to provide parking facilities for the convenience of commercial patrons.

He was told that Council was under no obligation to provide such facilities. However, it was pointed out as an indication of Council's desire to aid city businessmen the city was "gambling $90,000" on the municipal lot on E. Pershing St.

Campbell Memorial Will Bring 1-1-1 Record Here Friday

Coach John Knapic Says Team Is Capable of Better Football

Red Devils Have Hefty Line Which Averages 193 Pounds End to End

By DICK BRAUTIGAM It will be a big, hungry Campbell Memorial grid squad which comes here to meet the Salem Quakers Friday night at Reilly Field. The Red Devils, rated as one of the pre-season powers in the area, have been a disappointment to most of their followers. Campbell opened the season by tying Youngstown Chaney, 12-12, then dumped Boardman, 22-14, before being routed last week by Hubbard, 36-0. That leaves them with a 1-1-1 record going into Friday's game with the Quakers. "That was the worst licking any of my teams have taken in 30 years," Coach John Knapic said of his club's drubbing at the hands of Hubbard. "We have never looked worse than we did in that game."

KNAPIC HAS what he calls a "pony backfield". "They can run if they want too, if you know what I mean," the coach commented. Although the Campbell line is per man from end to end, all four starting backs are in the 150 to 155-pound class.

The quarterback is Joe Smrek, 150, senior. Mike Kadlak, 150, and Willie Adams, 155, are the halfbacks. Coach Knapic says he will probably make a switch this week at fullback. Joe Ortenzio, 155, may open at fullback instead of Willie Hodges, a 6-1, 190, senior who has been holding down that post.

"Hodges just hasn't come around," the coach observed. "He hurt us on the opening kickoff last week and we never did recover. We'll give someone else a chance this week."

CAPT. GEORGE PONTIKOS has also been playing fullback but Coach Knapic says this 190, senior, will be moved back to his old position, left guard, for the Salem game. Syl Franzini, 190, senior, plays the other guard. Ed Rohan, 192 senior, has been playing left guard and will undoubtedly see considerable action at that position against Salem.

The Red Devils have two giant tackles. They are Ron Ciccolilli,

Pigskin Picks

Expert Says Illinois Will Beat Ohio State

By HAROLD CLAASSEN Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—The brand new crystal ball, complete with radar and other electronics devices, could correctly forecast Iowa's upset of Northwestern last week and could perceive other trouble spots for the favorites, but it was far from perfect.

The weekend's record was 36 correct selections on the college football card and 16 wrong ones for a .694 average. The season's total now is 106-35 for .752.

This week's picks:

Syracuse over Holy Cross: If Harvard could defeat Holy Cross what do you think Ernie Davis and his playmates will do to the Crusaders?

Mississippi over Vanderbilt: The Rebels are getting used to these night games, and are after a strong conference showing to make up for the Memphis State scare.

Michigan State over Iowa: The Hawkeye sophomores have speed, but Michigan State has too many other resources.

Illinois over Ohio State: The Buckeyes haven't been scored on this season but that record goes into the discard. Joe Rutgens sticks out in that Illini line.

Navy over Southern Methodist: They meet in the first bowl game of the season—the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk, Va., Joe Bellino, Navy ace, will serve the Mustangs on the half-shell.

Purdue over Wisconsin: The Boilermakers won't let their runaway victory over Notre Dame spoil them but this time they win by the margin of a single touchdown.

Elsewhere: Arkansas over Baylor; Kansas over Iowa State; Air Force over Missouri; Washington over Stanford; Minnesota over Northwestern; Texas over Oklahoma; Army over Penn State; Florida over Rice.

Navy End Is Named Lineman of the Week

By The Associated Press Greg Mather, Navy end who booted the winning field goal in the Middles' upset 15-14 victory over Washington, was named the lineman of the week today by The Associated Press.

Washington led 14-12 when Mather, a rugged 223-pounder from Woodland Hills, Calif., booted a 31-yard field goal in the last 14 seconds to turn defeat into victory.

His kicking ability, in addition to his all-around play, gained Mather the nod in the weekly AP poll by sportswriters and broadcasters.

Other linemen who drew attention included Navy guard John Hewitt; Roy McKasson, Washington center; Danny Larose, Missouri end; Dean Garrett, Arkansas guard; Arvie Martin, Texas Christian center; Herby Atkins, Baylor guard; E. J. Holub, Texas Tech center; Ken Rice, Auburn tackle; Tom Goode, Mississippi State center; Vic Miranda, Florida guard; Johnny Brewer, Mississippi end; and Ken Frost, Tennessee tackle.

The Cincinnati Reds and San Francisco Giants broke even in their 22 games during the 1960 campaign.

Browns Don't Play This Week

Travel to Dallas for Next Tilt on Oct. 16

CLEVELAND (AP) — If you imagine that the Cleveland Browns will be taking it easy this week because they have no game this weekend, you don't know their coach very well. The team will work out Wednesday as usual.

Paul Brown is not the kind of coach to ease up just because his club has posted victories over two eastern division clubs that are rated strong contenders—Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Cleveland doesn't play again until Oct. 16 at Dallas. It was the Cowboys' entry into the National Football League which resulted in each of the loop's 13 clubs getting an idle weekend on the schedule. Detroit and Washington already have had their byes. Next year when Minnesota's Vikings come into the league, there will be no open weekends.

Coach Brown said he planned "a week of conditioning" and "plenty of running." He said he is "wary of a break in the schedule like this."

"We will continue to build our offense and take on several new plays," Brown added.

With a dozen rookies and seven newcomers on his roster, Brown can put the extra time to good advantage.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

It's pretty rough when a resident spends a lot of money building a modern brick home in the suburbs and then throws in an additional $1,100 to have the lawn prepared and seeded into top quality grass only to have a skunk come along and dig holes all over the place with practically all of the grass dying.

Such is the situation that came to my attention last week by a Salem resident. It looked as if every "duffer" in the county had teed-off on the lawn with divots scattered over the yard making hay out of what should be pretty green grass.

After looking over the situation it was easy to see that what attracted the skunk to the lawn the yard was loaded with beetle grubs and many other burying insects and moles which provided good eating for the little animal. No doubt great damage had occurred before the skunk moved in as undesirable an associate that he is.

IN CASES OF THIS kind I would recommend a trip to the nearest chemical sales company and get sound advice on how to get rid of the burying insects, etc. Once one of the natural foods of a skunk has been removed, his digging will end and the skunk will move on. Getting rid of the skunk will not save the lawn as the lawn is full of dead spots that occurred before the skunk took over.

The choice of the property owner is simply this: Should the skunk be left alone and continue to exterminate the pests one at a time or remove the skunk and let the lawn continue to die? Strangely enough the neighbor's lawn is apparently in good shape.

MEMBERS OF THE TRAPPING fraternity who like to "sling the steel" should get the latest fur market quotations before they set their traps. I have been told that o'possum hides will bring from $1 to $2.50 this season depending on the quality. Also, I have been advised that the market is flooded with muskrat hides and the prices will be down this season.

Seeing a lady whom I knew wearing a new style coat with a fox fur collar at a football game, I remarked: "What, long fur?" She replied: "Yes, long fur for me every time and it has been in style for the past two years." I will agree that long fur is much more elegant by old time standards and no doubt more practical with that most desirable "soft touch."

Fishermen at Zepernick Lake are taking home bluegills by the dozens from 6 to 8 in. in length. Maggots are doing the trick. Bass are also biting on minnows but not by the dozens.

Two 12 in. bass are not bad for a few hours fishing with the hopes of hooking on to one much bigger. A few genuine fishermen are having lots of fun catching fish with the lake practically deserted with hungry fish moving around in search of food.

Pro Hockey Season Gets Rolling Tonight

By The Associated Press The National Hockey League season opens tonight on two fronts when the Boston Bruins play the New York Rangers in New York and the Chicago Black Hawks entertain the Detroit Red Wings.

The other two clubs—the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Montreal Canadiens—get their season underway in Montreal Thursday night.

The Canadiens, even without the retired Maurice Richard, are favorites to outdistance the opposition once again. Montreal has won the Stanley Cup the last five years and has taken the NHL title in four of those years.

Richard, now 39, announced his retirement a few weeks ago after 18 record-breaking seasons with the Canadiens.

During the first seven months of 1960, C. V. Whitney horses earned $8505.869.

Boudreau Quits As Cub Manager

Will Return to Job With Radio Station

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs were again on the managerial merry-go-round today hoping to pluck off a gold ring — a manager that can win.

The Cubs have had several field managers in 11 years. Their latest boss, Lou Boudreau, quit Tuesday after asking — but not receiving — a long-term contract. He's going back to the job he had before joining the Cubs: baseball color announcer for Chicago radio station WGN.

Boudreau left the broadcasting booth for the baselines May 4, replacing Charlie Grimm as Cub pilot.

Guesswork placed Phil Cavarretta, former Cub star and manager, high on the list of replacements for Boudreau. Other names tossed around included those of Al Dark, a utility player with Milwaukee; Bob Scheffing, another former Cub manager; and Bill Rigney, ex-manager of the San Francisco Giants.

The Cubs this season finished in seventh place with one of their — worst records in years, 60-94.

James Earl Named Back of the Week

MEMPHIS (AP) — A slender quarterback who would rather be lousy in victory than magnificent in defeat — that's James Earl.

"Not that we don't appreciate the kind words," said Wright, after drawing the national pat on the back. "It is an honor to me and to the team. But wouldn't it have been a blast if we had beat old number one?"

Old number one was mighty Mississippi. Wright led the Memphis State Tigers in an uproarious encounter that nearly did upset Ole Miss, which was atop the AP poll at the time.

Mississippi's difficulty in handling MSU 31-20 helped drop the Rebels to No. 2, behind Syracuse.

RAMBLER ANNOUNCES
STRONGEST GUARANTEE
IN AUTO HISTORY

1 LIFETIME GUARANTEE ON NEW CERAMIC-ARMORED MUFFLER AND TAIL-PIPE STANDARD ON ALL '61 MODELS

Born of space-age developments, Rambler announces on all 1961 models a new Ceramic-Armored muffler and tail-pipe guaranteed against defects for the lifetime of the car while in the hands of the original owner. This covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. Every '61 Rambler muffler and tail-pipe is completely covered with a special ceramic coating—similar to that used in rockets and missiles—to give lasting protection against rust and corrosion caused by water, salt and acids. Another Rambler first!

2 12-MONTH, 12,000-MILE WARRANTY EXTENDED TO ALL NEW RAMBLER OWNERS

Now Rambler extends to all new Rambler owners its comprehensive full-year or 12,000-mile warranty, whichever occurs first. In fact, this liberal warranty, announced to dealers more than a year ago, also covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. It applies to all 1961 Rambler models and to 1960 Ramblers still within the warranty period. The normal industry warranty covers only 90 days or 4,000 miles.

Injuries May Not Be Healed

Pirates Worried About Law, Groat

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Despite outward optimism, the Pittsburgh Pirates went into the World Series against the New York Yankees today secretly worried about the condition of two key performers—starting pitcher Vernon Law and shortstop Dick Groat.

Law, the Pirates' 20-game winner, has not fully recovered from an ankle injury suffered 10 days ago.

The right-handed ace, 30, said frankly, "It feels better, but it's not 100 per cent yet." He still has some difficulty sliding his foot off the rubber when throwing a curve ball, his best pitch.

Even Danny Murtaugh, Pirate manager, admits Groat's left wrist, fractured a month ago, is "not 100 per cent." The Buc captain and sparkplug still has soreness in his forearm muscles. He still flinches when missing a swing or catching a hard throw in the pocket of his glove.

The Yankees, in sharp contrast, faced the opener before a sellout crowd of some 38,000 in full strength except for a minor nuisance. A head cold is plaguing first baseman Bill (Moose) Skowron.

Right-hander Art Ditmar, Casey Stengel's choice to oppose Law, is fit and ready. The 15-game winner worked last Friday against the Boston Red Sox. Law also worked last Friday. Handicapped by the ankle sprain, he was pummeled for 10 hits and eight runs in less than three innings by the Milwaukee Braves.

The odds-makers made the Yankees a 13 to 10 choice to gain their 19th victory in 25 World Series and their eighth in 10 under Stengel. Today's game was rated even money.

Kent Wrestling Coach Nears College Record

Joe Begala will begin his 28th season as Kent State University wrestling coach this winter with high hopes of breaking the current record for having coached a team to the most dual meet victories in the country.

The dean of Mid-American Conference coaches currently has a record of 218 wins, 36 losses and two ties, an .851 winning percentage.

The record for victories is held by William "Billy" Sheridan, former wrestling coach at Lehigh University. In 40 seasons Sheridan's teams won 223 dual meets, lost 83 and tied 59.

A former athlete at Struthers High School, Begala attended Ohio University at Athens, where he led the Bobcat wrestlers to a victory in the only shutout ever suffered by a Kent State wrestling team.

With eight dual meets scheduled this year, Begala's team will have to do what 22 of his past 27 teams have done — lose no more than two meets — to break the collegiate record.

The field judge, stationed opposite the head linesman on or near the line of scrimmage, pays particular attention to downfield play.

He is responsible for timing the game, in which he has expert assistance from clock operators stationed on the sidelines or in the press box.

On field goals he rules whether the ball goes over or under the cross bar. The referee determines whether it goes through.

Particularly difficult calls for a field judge are forward pass interference and downfield clipping. He is required to do a lot of running.

Trout Growth Is Good Below Berlin Dam

Although Ohio may never become a good trout fishing state, experimental plantings of them by the Division of Wildlife have been termed fairly successful.

In May, 1960, rainbow trout were stocked in the Mahoning River below Berlin Dam. The trout, in addition to a good rate of survival, have also put on good growth.

Dan Armbruster, fish management supervisor, said a census taken by Earl Ressler, Mahoning County game protector, showed a number of trout caught by fishermen which averaged eight inches. One trout had shown a growth of five inches in 104 days.

Ressler's census showed that most of the trout were taken on the old standby, worms.

ON WRESTLING CARD—Pat Neff, 21-year-old native of Rome, Ohio, will be one of six women wrestlers who will take part in a five-match program starting at 8:30 tonight at the Hi-Neighbor Dance Hall in Salem.

World Series Tidbits

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"No Irish family ever is small," a guy said to Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh. "So how many tickets did you have to get for relatives?"

"I'd hate to count 'em up," said Danny. "But the toughest part about it is that they all think I get 'em free!"

A major league umpire broke tradition and unwritten law today and made a pick on the outcome of the Series.

Everything was within bounds, however. The ump was a no-longer ump, Beans Reardon. His pick? "The Yankees — unless Vern Law can pitch a big series for the Pirates."

An Air Force man who came 4,000 miles to see Pittsburgh play was in the opening day crowd today.

He was Buc Manager Danny Murtaugh's cousin, who is stationed in Spain.

"He told me his commanding officer said he could get a leave if I could get him tickets," said Danny. "I said yes, and so did the CO."

Spokesman for both presidential candidates said it was unlikely either would be able to attend a Series game here.

Democrat John Kennedy, might make it, however, since he has a political date here during the series. But the best an aide for Republican Richard Nixon could offer was "maybe next year."

Officials at the University of Pittsburgh received an interoffice memo today concerning the Series.

"In order to maintain proper safety for personnel during the World Series, it is requested that no university personnel be permitted on the roofs of the Cathedral of Learning, or any other university building, to watch the World Series games."

The cathedral, which is across the street from Forbes Field is 42 stories high.

Kent State Brushes Up on Pass Defense

A search for a starting left halfback and work on pass defense was prescribed by Coach Trevor Rees for his Kent State University football team this week. The Golden Flashes lost a 25-8 decision to Ohio University, Saturday.

Rees plans to give four players a shot at the left halfback job. Senior Arnold Jeter and sophomore Bill Martin have been sharing the duties, but sophomores John Bucey and Denny Kopinski have been injured and are expected to return to action this week.

The Golden Flash pass defense must improve for this week's encounter with Miami University at Oxford. Saturday, the Flashes allowed six of eight passes to be completed against them, one for a touchdown.

Rees expects trouble from the Miami quarterbacks in this department. Last week Vic Ippolito uncorked a 50-yard touchdown pass for the Redskins and the other quarterback, Jack Gayheart, ranks high in the Mid-American Conference passing statistics.

Kent is expected to start with Flynn and another sophomore quarterback, Arnold Edwards of Dayton, in the deep pass defense positions.

United Junior High Rolls Over Beaver

Coach Joe Marra's rugged United Junior High School football squad rolled up its second straight impressive victory of the season Tuesday as they trampled Beaver Junior High, 52-16, at Beaver.

Last week the United Junior High club smashed Dennison St. Mary's, 49-16.

Left halfback Gene Metzger, who tallied three touchdowns against Dennison, added four more last night on runs of 83, 55, 32 and 14 yards. Dyer Scott, the fullback, ran for a pair of TD's on runs of 20 and 4 yards. A 32-yard pass from Metzger to Homer Sturgeon accounted for United's other touchdown.

United tallied 10 points on successful runs after their touchdowns. Conversion points were scored by Metzger, 2; Scott, 6; and Dave Parrish, 2.

United held quarter leads of 14-0, 30-8 and 38-8. The Junior High Golden Eagles will play their next game at home against Greenford.

Casey Expected to Stay With Yanks

Big League Managers on Move

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Casey Stengel probably will remain as manager of the New York Yankees, and Ralph Houk, widely considered Stengel's successor, probably will become the manager of the Detroit Tigers.

This managerial turnabout shaped up today in the wake of the firing of Manager Bob Elliott by Kansas City, Lou Boudreau's resignation at Chicago and Joe Gordon's walkout at Detroit.

Other reports circulating at World Series headquarters were: 1. Gordon will manage the Athletics. (This is close to being a fact).

2. Bob Scheffing, just re-signed as a Milwaukee Braves' coach, has the inside track to succeed Tom Sheehan as manager of the San Francisco Giants. (The only thing positive is that Sheehan will not return in 1961.)

3. Bill Rigney, replaced by Sheehan as Giant manager last May, is a leading candidate for the managing job with the Chicago Cubs. (Fact: Rigney has applied for the Detroit job).

Gordon, who quit the Tigers suddenly Monday, was to confer with Kansas City General Manager Parke Carroll today. A Kansas City spokesman said, "Unless Joe asks for the moon, he's got the job. It will be a 2-year contract."

Houk, regarded in New York as their apparent Stengel's throne when the 70-year-old wizard of the dugouts quits, apparently has given up hope of ever succeeding the old man.

"I'm receptive to a good offer," he said. "I'm getting older and I can't afford to let too many more years slip by."

Brothers Joe and Steve Bauwens of Rock Island, Ill., are tackles on the UCLA football team.

Salem Frosh Gridders Play at East Liverpool

The Salem freshmen football squad will be seeking its first victory in three starts Thursday when it travels to East Liverpool to meet Westgate.

Salem coach Bob Slevin says his charges are improving steadily. He said they looked much better in last week's game with Minerva than they did in their opener against Boardman.

Only 5,727 paid admissions were recorded when the New York Titans beat Buffalo's Bills, 27-3, in their rainy American Football League home opener.

BOWLING

Top bowling scores in the city Tuesday night were turned in by members of the Ten Pin League at Saxon Lanes.

Pete Sommers picked off 255 pins to take single game honors. Ross Mellinger posted a 224 and Jim Jackson had a 221. Sommers, who had a 600 series, was edged out in that department by George Crawford who posted a 611. Jackson's series was 565.

Team honors in the Ten Pin loop went to the Leetonia American Legion which carded a 2665 series with a 945 single game.

In the Mixed Foursome League, Fred Vogelhuber posted a 546-210; Bud Timbrook had a 514-212; and Carl Barnard carded 513-199. For the women, Mary Woolf had a 464-181, and Nancy Barclay posted a 459-178. Barbara Zeigler's 186 was high single game.

The Hi-Lo's had a 671 to take team single game honors. Dinsio Bros. had high series, 1727.

In the Men's Service League at Timberlakes, Paul Scullion led the way with 558-206. Vince Malloy carded a 205 single game and Frank Schmid came through with a 533 series.

Julian's Electric posted high team series, 2553, and high single game, 869.

Dick Hahn and Pop Jennings each carded 226's to tie for individual high single game honors in the Deming Co. Men's League. Hahn's 579 was the high series rolled in the loop last night.

Other 200-or-better games were

NOW THAT THEY'RE NEWLYWEDS, both Jill Wright and Iris McGovern have something to tell their friends about their wedding days. Jill, a model, "started off on the wrong foot" literally when she tripped over her train just as she arrived at the London church. Not at all flustered, she got a helping hand from members of the wedding party and strolled down the aisle. The wedding of Iris and Michael Booth, also in London, went smoothly enough until the last few moments. After the ceremony, Iris beat the drum while Larry O'Dowd, member of an Irish Pipe band, supplied a little bagpipe music for the occasion.

Model Jill Wright shows how not to arrive for a wedding. She recovered nicely.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Sure Fire Cold Cure All in Your Head

"Why is it," asks an indignant correspondent, "that you doctors insist on saying and writing that there's no cure for a cold when everybody knows you can stop a cold by taking aspirin and gargling with hot water that contains a few drops of iodine?"

I'll have to answer this protest in two parts. First, I'll give what we consider proof that neither of the measures mentioned by my correspondent has the slightest demonstrable value.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

Then I'll try to explain why my correspondent—and many, many like her—have, among them, dozens of domestic "cold cures" by which they swear.

The common cold, by definition, is an infection whose effects are mostly localized to the structures of the nasal cavity. It may be caused by any one of a variety of viruses and perhaps, too, by bacteria such as the pneumococcus, meningococcus, streptococcus and perhaps other related organisms.

IRRESPECTIVE of which of these cold-producers gives rise to the familiar symptoms of the common cold, not even a single soldier in the army of enemy invaders can be expected to "bite the dust" whether the ammunition used by the enthusiast consists of aspirin or an aspirin relative, an antihistamine, quinine, a laxative, a shot of whisky, an iodine or any other sort of gargle, nose drops, or chest rubs that contain volatile oils, or inhalations. Or any or all of these reputed "cures" in combination.

Why then do so many persons have faith in these "cures" of which physicians are so disdainful?

There are, I believe, at least three explanations.

The first is the admitted fact that the common cold, like any other infection, may be abortive.

Perhaps you may yourself have noted that a familiar disease, like measles or mumps, may vary from child to child or from one year to the other.

If the child with a mild rash or a slight swelling of the gland were given some form of treatment, it would be quite reasonable for the enthusiast to credit what was done for the mildness of the infection.

But it wouldn't be reasonable for the therapist to maintain this view if the same favorable result were not consistently obtained in other children and from year to year.

SECONDLY, we tend to develop some sort of resistance mechanism to the common cold. One of the few advantages of growing old is the lessened susceptibility to colds and the lessened discomfort once one gains a foothold. Or should I say nosehold?

The third and most frequent cause for error is that of interpreting every instance of nasal stuffiness or sneezing as evidence of the onset of a cold.

As you must know from your own experience, if you sit or sleep in a poorly ventilated room, you'll be annoyed by the fullness of one or both nostrils that partially or wholly prevents breathing through the passage.

OFTEN WHEN you leave an air conditioned room, you may start to sneeze. In either or both instances you're merely experiencing the sort of nasal reaction that is commonly, but not universally, associated with the common cold of infectious origin.

Now if you dose yourself with the reputed "cure" and, shortly thereafter, report a return to normalcy, you may be tempted to hail whatever you did as a form of "miracle treatment."

But, unless you can consistently repeat the "cure," hold your enthusiasm.

Slip Skin Grape Jam Is Delicious

"First catch your basket of Concord grapes!" That's how modern recipes for grape jam and jelly should read.

Because most of these foxy-flavored grapes are sent to processing plants to be made into jams, jellies, juices and wines, they are not so abundant in markets and shops as they were in our mothers' or grandmothers' day.

But cooks with an urge to "put up" grape jam can use another variety of slip-skin grapes. Preserves made from Concord grapes are especially tangy, but any home-made grape jam holds a pleasure all its own.

In the fall, when we were very young, all hands—including the littlest—helped when grape jam and jelly were being made. And with what busyness! Dressed in our oldest clothes, seated on the back steps outside the kitchen door of our vacation-time country house, my sister and I slipped skins from pulp with proud and fierce determination.

Never mind the purple-stained fingers and pinafores, the mouths puckered from frequent tasting. We were never happier than when we had our fingers in the jam-and-jelly making.

Every once in a while my mother would come out of the kitchen to see how we were getting along and transfer a few skins that had strayed into the pulp bowl. As she stood there quietly watching us, pausing to enjoy the pale gold sunlight of a peaceful autumn day, we felt her secure substantial presence. All was right with our world.

Years later my niece and nephew undertook exactly the same task. Watching those two small heads, one brown as an acorn and the other fair as tassels of corn, I listened to their gleeful chanting as they squashed open the grape skins between thumbs and forefingers and plopped soft innards into a bowl. What great and good satisfaction children feel when their small contributions are appreciated and respected.

Modern Grape Jam

4 to 5 pounds slip-skin grapes, 1 box (1 1/2 ounces) powdered fruit pectin, 7 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Wash, drain and stem grapes. Press gently to separate pulp from skin. Simmer pulp, covered, until soft; press through sieve to remove seeds. Put skins through fine knife of food chopper; add to sieved pulp; measure 6 1/2 cups into a kettle (4 to 6 quarts).

Add pectin. Stir over high heat until mixture reaches a full boil. Add sugar, salt and lemon juice; bring to fast rolling boil; boil 1 minute.

Remove from heat; quickly skim off foam; pour boiling hot to within 1/2 inch of top of half-pint sterilized jars—about 10 will be needed. Seal at once with home canning cap.

Island Mustard

2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoons butter.

In a small saucepan thoroughly mix together until smooth the flour, sugar, salt, dry and prepared mustards, vinegar and water. Cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened. Stir in butter. Cool. Store, covered, in refrigerator. Makes almost 1 cup.

Vegetable Sauté

Carrot-Green Pepper Sauté (4 servings)

Wash 2 bunches (about 18 medium) carrots, scrape and cut in thin diagonal slices. Cook, covered in 1/2 inch boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt 5 minutes or until almost tender. Drain, if necessary.

Add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon basil leaves and 1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper. Sauté 5 minutes or until carrots and green peppers are crisp-tender.

Zucchini Sauté (4 servings)

Cut 1 pound unpeeled zucchini squash into thin slices. Peel and thinly slice 1 medium onion. Melt 3 tablespoons butter, margarine or other fat in large, heavy skillet. Add squash and onion. Cook, uncovered, 5 minutes, turning occasionally with fork. Cover. Continue cooking until zucchini is tender, about 5 minutes. (Add 1 to 2 tablespoons water, if necessary.) Season to taste with salt and ground black pepper.

Wilted Spinach (6 to 8 servings)

Wash 1 pound fresh spinach. Tear into small pieces. Broil 8 strips bacon until crisp in a skillet. Drain bacon on absorbent paper. Add 2 cups onion rings (2 medium onions). Cook only until limp. Remove onion rings and add 1-3 cup cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper. Bring mixture to boiling point; pour over spinach. Add onion rings. Toss. Crumble bacon over top.

Vegetable Salad

Cooked Vegetable Salad
1 package (10 ounces) mixed frozen vegetables, 1 can or jar (about 1 pound) asparagus, 4 cups torn salad greens, Salad oil, Wine vinegar, salt, freshly-ground pepper.

Cook vegetables according to package directions; drain; chill. Arrange in salad bowl with asparagus and salad greens. Toss with oil, vinegar, salt and pepper to taste. Classic proportions for dressing are 3 measures of oil and 1 of vinegar. Makes 8 servings. Do not cut asparagus so each portion can be served easily with the whole stalks.

Beef Stew Is Savory Treat

What's wrong with many recipes for brown beef stew? Plenty—from our point of view.

They call for too much liquid. Conscientious cooks take time to brown the beef thoroughly, then they follow directions and drown it in so much liquid that its rich color is washed away.

Readers have written us that they like our Oven Stew, the recipe given some years ago, because it has only a moderate amount of liquid and hearty flavor. So now we offer Oven Stew again, this time with quite different gravy.

What's new? The liquid used here is tomato paste plus water. And we're not dogmatic about seasonings. You can change ours to suit your spice and herb shelves or your whim. Use basil instead of marjoram, oregano instead of thyme, seasoning salt instead of celery salt. You can even do away with the garlic if you must.

SAVORY OVEN STEW

2 pounds stewing beef, 3 tablespoons fat, 2 large onions, 3 medium-size carrots, 1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas (slightly thawed), 1/2 cup tomato paste, 1 1/2 cups water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 clove garlic.

Special Seasonings
Have beef cut in about 2-inch chunks; cut away any fat from edges. Brown thoroughly in hot fat in large skillet; remove beef to 3-quart baking dish (about 10 by 3 inches). Add peeled and quartered onions, sliced carrots and peas. To drippings in skillet add tomato paste, water, salt, pepper, Worcestershire, crushed garlic and Special Seasonings; stir over low heat to get up browned particles. Pour over beef and vegetables.

Cover tightly and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until beef is tender — 1 1/2 to 2 hours. To remove excess fat easily: cool and chill covered stew; turn over large pieces of solid fat at top; with a fork take off any peas adhering; discard fat. Reheat. Makes 6 servings.

Special Seasonings: 1 bay leaf, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/4 teaspoon dried marjoram, 1/4 teaspoon dried thyme.

Supper Salad

2 cups diced cooked potatoes, 1 cup diced leftover meat, 1/2 green pepper (diced), 1/4 cup diced cucumber, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1/2 cup mayonnaise-type salad dressing, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste, 2 hard-boiled eggs.

Mix all ingredients except eggs; slice eggs and arrange over top of salad. Makes 4 servings.

Shirred Eggs Are Delicious

Give the egg its due. Nutritionists agree that it's a good idea for each member of the family to eat an egg a day.

Why? Because eggs are an excellent source of high-quality protein—just as are meat, poultry and fish—and protein is needed for body growth and repair. In addition, eggs offer vitamins and iron.

One delicious way to cook eggs is to shirr them; we're constantly surprised that more cooks do not use this method. Webster says that into shirr is "to break eggs in a dish with cream or crumb and bake in the oven or cook in hot water on the fire." As usual the dictionary is right.

Recently we chose to substitute crisp corn flakes for the crumbs and at our house both grownups and visiting small fry approved the variation. If you try the following recipe, don't worry, as we did, about how you are going to get the egg nests out of the custard cups; we find they lift out beautifully.

The cream method of shirring eggs may be used with one egg in a custard cup or two eggs in a shirred-egg dish. If you haven't any of the latter, substitute individual heat-resistant glass pie plates. These are about 6 inches across and 1 inch deep, widely available and inexpensive. We suggest glass because they make presentable tableware, and cream-type shirred eggs must be served in the dishes in which they are cooked.

Before the eggs are slipped into the buttered dishes, a little cream (usually 1 tablespoon for each dish) is poured in. Then the dishes are placed in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 10 minutes or so to set. Salt and pepper are added by eaters to suit their own tastes.

This is a basic method on which many variations may be made. Sometimes we arrange strips of cooked ham in the cream in the dishes, slip in the eggs and top with grated cheese.

Crispy Shirred Eggs
Ingredients: 1½ teaspoons butter (melted), ¼ cup (or 1-ounce package) corn flakes, 4 eggs, salt, white pepper, ¼ cup grated cheddar cheese (if desired).

Method: Pour butter over corn flakes tossing lightly as you do so to mix. Place nest-fashion in 4 buttered custard cups. Slip an egg into the center of each nest. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and cheese, if used. If cheese is not used, do not season before baking. Place in slow (325 degrees) oven until eggs are firm — 15 to 20 minutes. Loosen outside of nests with spatula and lift out gently. Makes 4 servings.

Calcutta Meat Patties

1 pound ground beef, ½ cup buttermilk, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon onion salt, ¼ teaspoon turmeric, 2 teaspoons ground coriander, ¼ teaspoon ground ginger, 1 tablespoon butter.

Mix beef thoroughly with buttermilk and seasonings; shape into small patties, using 2 tablespoons of meat mixture for each.

Brown rapidly on all sides in hot butter in heavy skillet — 9 or 10 inches; continue cooking over low heat if necessary just until center of patties are no longer pink (test one by breaking open with a fork). Makes about 2 dozen patties.

Golden Glow Squash

1½ pounds butternut squash, ¼ cup boiling water, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cornstarch, ½ cup pineapple juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 cup drained pineapple tidbits.

Pare squash, remove seeds and stringy portion; cut in ¾-inch cubes. Cook rapidly, covered, in 10-inch skillet with water and salt just until tender — about 10 minutes; drain if necessary and reserve.

In same empty skillet mix cornstarch smooth with pineapple juice; cook and stir over low heat until thickened. Add lemon rind and juice, squash and pineapple; heat. Makes 6 servings.

You'll Like This Coffee Cake

Four o'clock tea—or "elevenies"—are two customs we might do well to borrow from our English cousins. Which to choose depends on the time you can most conveniently allot to a quiet hour with friends and neighbors—or to yourself.

Leisure is the keynote, so le arrangements be simple: Plain bread and butter is good with tea, but there will be times when you want something special, such as this simple - to - make Chocolate Fick Nut Bread. Its basic ingredient is prepared biscuit mix, with sweet cooking chocolate, grated, adding a delicious flavor and texture. Crisp nuts and grated orange rind contribute their special interest to this unusual quick bread.

This bread improves in flavor and is easier to slice if made at least twenty-four hours ahead. Make it on some not too busy day, wrap it in foil or seran wrap and tuck it away from pilfering small hands, to be brought out for a neighborly tea-time treat.

Chocolate Fick Nut Bread
3 cups prepared biscuit mix, ¼ cup sugar, 1 egg, beaten, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup orange juice, 1 package (¼ pound) sweet cooking chocolate, coarsely grated (about 1 cup), ¼ cup chopped walnuts, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind (optional).

Combine biscuit mix and sugar in a large bowl. Then combine beaten egg, milk, and orange juice. Add to biscuit mix. Beat vigorously about 30 seconds. Stir in chocolate, nuts, and orange rind. Spoon into a well-greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 55 to 60 minutes. Let

Toasted Olive Cheese

8 ounces sharp cheddar cheese (grated fine or medium), ¼ cup catchup, ¼ cup minced pimiento olives, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, sliced bread.

Mix together all the ingredients for the spread; if you have the hot variety of catchup use it. Spread 2 tablespoons of the mixture on each slice of lightly toasted bread, covering edges. Place under broiler to melt cheese and brown lightly. Spread is delicious on a dark bread without toasting or broiling. Makes about 1½ cups spread.

Cornish Hens Are Delicious

The 150 editors at the 18th annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference in New York visited a loan exhibit of Jewish ceremonial objects of antiquity. This rare collection was loaned by the internationally famous Jewish Museum of New York.

Our host was the B. Manischewitz Company. In a room beautiful with roses and tall pink candles, we learned about authentic Jewish foods for special festivals. Also that many of these dishes are enjoyed regularly by non-Jewish families.

Stuffed Rock Cornish Hens (Serves 6)

Six Rock Cornish hens, ½ cup (¼-pound) pareve margarine or chicken fat, ½ cup diced onion, 1 cup diced mushrooms, 6 matzos, finely broken; ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 egg, beaten slightly; one 10½-ounce can condensed clear chicken soup.

Saute onion and mushrooms in fat until tender but not browned. Add broken matzos and toast lightly. Combine salt, pepper, paprika, egg and soup. Add to matzos mixture. Lightly fill body cavities with stuffing. Close openings with skewers. Place on a rack in a large roasting pan, breast side up. Brush liberally with melted pareve margarine or chicken fat. Roast uncovered in a hot oven (425 degrees F.), brushing occasionally with additional fat, for 1 hour or until tender.

Orange Snow

½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 2½ cups orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 egg whites.

Stir together thoroughly the sugar, salt and gelatin. Add 1½ cups extremely hot orange juice; stir until dissolved. Add remaining 1 cup orange juice and lemon juice; chill until lightly thickened; beat until frothy. Beat egg white until stiff and fold in. Turn into a 6 to 8 cup mold and chill until firm. Unmold and serve with Custard Sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Custard Sauce: Mix 2 egg yolks (left from Snow) with 2 tablespoons sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt. Gradually stir in 1 cup hot milk. Cook over hot water until mixture coats a silver spoon. Cool; cover; stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla. Serve chilled.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a mature, sensible, unmarried businesswoman of 44. A man I've known for many years (bachelor) moved to this city several months ago. He was having a difficult time finding a suitable apartment so I offered to let him move in with me. I have a lovely two-bedroom place and one bedroom was always vacant.

He pays half the rent and we split the utility and phone bill. We never get in each other's way and the arrangement is ideal.

If you think there's any sex involved here you're wrong. We are good friends — and nothing more. The evil-minded landlady suggested last week I take the man's name off the mailbox or tell people he's a cousin. I told her my conscience is clear and I see no reason to hide him or lie about his identity.

Am I right? Why do people always have to think the worst? — NC FOOLIN.

Dear No Foolin': Your conscience may be clear but your reputation is going to be mighty muddy if you don't move that bachelor out of there. People make judgments on circumstantial evidence. There will be no hanky-panky whatever but the setup suggests an illicit relationship. Don't change the mailbox — change HIS address.

Improper Suggestion

Dear Ann: I'm a boy 17 who dates a certain girl very often. I guess you might say we're going steady. We go out Friday and Saturday nights and sometimes Sunday if there's something special doing.

My problem is my girl doesn't care to eat at night. She says she'd rather have me spend the money on a practical gift for her — like a blouse or a sweater.

I don't like the idea much, although I can't tell her exactly what's wrong with it. Maybe it's because nobody I know does this. She says she doesn't care what other people do, she believes in leading her own life and in being practical. — WILLING TO LISTEN.

Dear Willing: Refreshments are part of the fun of going out. If your girl doesn't care to eat after a movie or a dance, take her home. You don't have a written contract that you must spend a certain amount of money on her, do you?

A 17-year-old should not have a financial arrangement of this kind with his girl. Her father should buy her clothing.

Forced Feeding

Forced Ann: My neighbor forces her 14-month-old child to eat by pinching his nose shut so he must swallow the food she stuffs into his mouth.

The child screams at the sight of the high chair and it makes me sick the way she abuses that child. Her little boy is thin and nervous and it worries me that when he grows up he'll be a nervous wreck.

I've hinted that such feeding is not good and she says, "As long as you get the food into 'em it doesn't matter how."

Please tell me what to do — if anything. When I hear that child scream at mealtime it breaks my heart. — NEIGHBOR.

Dear Neighbor: Tell the woman's husband at once and suggest he ask the family doctor (or the pediatrician) to talk with her immediately. She sounds like a sadistic character who is taking out her anxiety on the defenseless child.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
